Theories of Spectatorship & "A Clockwork Orange". Published on 22nd October 2015 In the essay, "Identification, Voyeurism, and Projective Illusion", Richard Allen proposes a relational structure of how spectators perceive and identify with Stanley Kubrick's A Clockwork Orange (1971). Allen opens by stating that, "Our emotional response to film is fostered by the experience of projective illusion... [and that] our emotional response to a character during [this experience is ...

Description. Projecting Illusion offers a systematic analysis of the impression of reality in the cinema and the pleasure it gives to the film spectator. Film provides a compelling experience that can be considered as a form of illusion akin to the experience of day-dream and dream. Examining the concept of illusion and its relationship to fantasy in the experience of visual representation, Richard Allen situates his explanation within the context of an analytical criticism of contemporary ...
